FALL 2016 UNPAID INTERNSHIPS

The Greensboro Historical Museum is pleased to announce unpaid internships for undergraduate and graduate students who wish to gain valuable experience and possible course credit at a Smithsonian Affiliate and American Alliance of Museums-accredited institution. Internships are available during the fall semester, with schedules determined after selection.

To apply, please submit a personal statement indicating the internship project for which you are applying, along with the reasons for your interest and how your work might benefit the Historical Museum. You should also send a transcript (unofficial is fine) and resume that includes contact information for two school or work references. Please submit these materials in one email to info@greensborohistory.org by Thursday, September 1, 2016.

LOCAL WORLD WAR I SOLDIERS

Learn and apply best professional research practices by researching Guilford County soldiers who served during the First World War and are buried at local churches and public cemeteries. Responsibilities include photography of tombstones and biographical research in library newspaper clippings and obituary records, other publications and on-line resources, such as genealogical sites, military databases and service records. Completed profiles will be incorporated into a searchable visitor kiosk in a museum exhibition. Instruction and supervision will be provided by the Curator of Collections.

Applicants must have keyboard and computer skills and work habits that demonstrate attention to detail. Research skill and interest in US History and military history are a plus, as is a demonstrated interest in history and/or museum work. Flexible weekday schedule.

GRASSROOTS MARKETING AND SOCIAL MEDIA

Support museum efforts to promote events and services with area media outlets. You'll also research Greensboro newspapers and sources to draft facebook posts, tweets, etc. to help develop a year-long series of "On this Day in Greensboro History." Instruction and supervision will be provided by several museum staff members.

Applicants should be undergraduate or graduate students with working knowledge of how to develop and use social media. Demonstrated research skills and creative thinking a plus. Flexible weekday schedule.
