

SUMMER 2022 FRIPP INTERNSHIP ANNOUNCEMENT

UNC Greensboro and the Greensboro History Museum are pleased to announce the Gayle Hicks Fripp Internship for UNCG Museum Studies graduate students for the summer of 2022. The internship will offer valuable professional experience at a Smithsonian Affiliate and American Alliance of Museums–accredited institution. It offers a stipend of $2,000 and requires a minimum of 200 hours. Insurance, sick leave, social security and state and federal taxes are not included.

The internship honors Gayle Fripp, UNCG alumna, former museum assistant director and distinguished author, in recognition of her contributions to the field of public history and service to the Greensboro community. This is an excellent opportunity for a student to learn and apply best professional practices of museum education and interpretation. Working under the supervision of the museum’s Curator of Education, the intern will lead the development and implementation of an innovative and engaging summer program for students. The intern will also have the opportunity, based on their interest, to support the creation of new educational initiatives, linked with community outreach. More broadly, the intern will perform a mix of public engagement and behind-the-scenes work, serve as a member of a project team, participate in different museum operations, and become familiar with a range of museum professions.

To apply, please submit the online form at <https://greensborohistory.org/internships>. You will need to attach the following three documents:

- 1. a personal statement indicating the internship for which you are applying, a description of your career plans and related experience, your reasons for seeking the internship, and how your efforts might benefit the Greensboro History Museum;
- 2. a resume with contact information for two academic or work references; and,
- 3. your academic transcript (unofficial accepted).

The application deadline is Sunday, March 13, 2022. For questions, e-mail museum@greensborohistory.org

The Greensboro History Museum – an AAM-accredited Smithsonian Affiliate – is a division of the City of Greensboro Library Department and operates as a public-private partnership with the nonprofit GHM Inc. In partnership with the community, the Greensboro History Museum collects the city’s diverse history and connects people to that history and one another through engaging exhibits, educational programs and community dialogue.
